"JINX" AUTO TURNS TURTLE, PINNING THREE BENEATH IT

FORD THAT KILLED FRED WILHELM LAST MONDAY PILES INTO DITCH AND OCCUPANTS HAVE MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Three local people narrowly escaped serious injury and all received minor hurts, as the result of a Ford car—the same machine that knocked down and killed Fred C. Wilhelm on Christmas night, turning turtle on the Chomington road two miles south of here—about 4:15 o'clock last night. The car, which was owned and driven by William E. Bozeman, Main street second hand dealer was badly wrecked and Bozeman's wife and small son received minor bruises.

Mrs. Bozeman is confined to her home today with a bad gash on her head and a deep cut on her right arm. Her son received several bad bruises and a couple of ribs are believed to be fractured. Mr. Bozeman received a sprained wrist besides several cuts and bruises.

Mr. Bozeman declared that he was traveling at a moderate rate of speed and was just in front of the Vanland home enroute from Streator when he reached down to try and adjust his gas foot as the engine had not been hitting right during the trip. He says his foot or foot must have caught on the gas lever for the machine started off with a roar and its rate of a few miles an hour increased to the speed limit in a brief time. Before he could get control of the car headed for the left side of the road and was in the ditch. The car turned turtle, going over on the right side.

As the occupants were pinned under the auto but fortunately Mr. Bozeman made his way out and was able to help his wife and son from the wreckage. Attempts by Bozeman to flag a car were futile for in these days of auto hobbles, motorists are getting over the habit of stopping to help some one in trouble. However, when Mrs. Bozeman attempted to flag a ride more success was met with and the trio were brought to Ottawa. All three were taken to their home where Dr. J. H. Edgcomb was summoned to attend them.

The wrecked car was towed to Ottawa by the Condo Motor Company and it is at their garage. The car is sure a "jinx" as the Ford knocked down Fred Wilhelm with such force Monday night that he succumbed in the hospital as the result of the accident while last night it near inflicted serious injuries or death on its occupants. And the worse of it all three mishaps happened at about the same time and just four days apart.

Archie of La Salle spent last evening in this city.

Jacksonville, Ill., Dec. 30.—Two-thirds of the business buildings on the south side of the public square were in ruins here today, an estimated loss of $200,000 as a result of fire of unknown origin early today.

TRIO HURT IN TRAIN AND AUTO COLLISION REMAIN IN HOSPITAL

Reports from the bedside of the three victims of last Thursday morning's railway accident, were none too encouraging this morning. The accident happened when the "Q" passenger struck a Maxwell car driven by C. B. Calhoun and resulted, it is now feared in the fatal injury to Theodore Meyers and less serious injury to Mr. Calhoun and Grant Meyers.

Theodore Meyers falls, it was said, to respond to any treatment, remaining semi-conscious and the doctors attending him now fear he is suffering of a fractured skull. Today, it was said, his condition reached the crisis and all will depend on how he pulls thru that period.

Grant Meyers, with a broken ankle, may be a cripple for life due to the mangled condition of his foot. It may be found necessary to amputate the foot according to hospital authorities.

C. B. Calhoun, the least injured of the trio, has been in a daze since the accident. His condition shows no improvement or no change for the worse.

A night session was held in the county court last night, to complete the testimony in the Maurice Cofoid case, in order that the trial might be concluded during 1923. Until a quarter of ten, witnesses were examined.

Two important witnesses were the father of the defendant and the half sister of the complainant. The latter, Mrs. George Nagle, testified in behalf of the complainant, Miss Mildred Hornung, and the former testified in favor of his son.

Closing arguments were started this morning, the attorneys summing up the evidence which had been presented in an effort of Miss Hornung to prove that Cofoid was the father of her eighteen months old, baby daughter. Cofoid has made a strong effort to free himself of this responsibility and to prove that he is absolutely innocent of this charge.

The case went on trial before Judge R. D. Mills and a jury of eleven men Wednesday. In the closing arguments today all four of the lawyers, A. E. Butters and L. O. Browne for the defense and A. H. Shay and F. H. Feol for the complainant, spoke.

DETENTION HOME MATRON TO RESIGN; HEALTH IMPAIRED

MRS. FOSTER, "MOTHER" TO CHILDREN AT COUNTY INSTITUTION FORCED TO TAKE LONG NEED. ED REST—STARTS VACATION TODAY.

Suffering from a nervous breakdown, Mrs. Carey Foster, the superintendent of the La Salle County Detention Home, was forced to leave the institution today, and go to the home of her sister, in Streator, to recuperate. Mrs. Foster has been under the care of physicians for some time and has been contemplating leaving to take a rest as soon as a successor could be secured to take her place.

She became ill last night, and her physician advised her to leave at once, without further delay.

A year ago Mrs. Foster tendered her resignation at the home, due to ill health, but was persuaded by the members of the board to remain on. Her illness will be the source of much regret on the part of all her friends.

She has been at the home for the past two years, and has made one of the most efficient superintendents ever in a local institution. Under her management the expenses of the upkeep of the home have decreased until there is now a big balance in the Detention Home fund.

Not only has her county work been marked with very efficient business management, but her extreme kindness to the children and her affection for them, has been the source of much gratification to all who came in contact with her work.

In leaving the home today, Mrs. Foster stated that she would ask the board to act on her old resignation, and that she would not return again, as it would take a long time for her to recover her health.
